Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 1026:

A RESOLUTION RELATING TO SALT WATER FISHERIES, THEIR IMPORTANCE TO FLORIDA, AND MAKING PROVISIONS FOR CARRYING OUT THE PURPOSES OF THIS RESOLUTION.

WHEREAS, The legislature of Florida is interested in every vital segment of the economy of the State of Florida, and

WHEREAS, All the statistics available to the legislature from surveys, made by the state board of conservation, state and federal agencies and otherwise, show conclusively that the fishing industry constitutes one of the three largest industries of the State of Florida; meaning more than five hundred million dollars ($500,000,000) annually to the state's general economy, and is surpassed in value only by tourism and agriculture, and

WHEREAS, The fishing industry of Florida furnishes employment to thousands of our citizens, not only to those engaged in the annual production of seafood, but employment and financial assistance to allied interest in fields such as shipbuilders, fishermen's supply places of business, banks that finance operations and the purchase of fishing boats and equipment, bait dealers, charter boats, fish markets, insurance agents in the marine insurance field, canneries and processors of fishery products, wholesale and retail dealers in fishery products, seafood restaurants, and countless other businesses to which the fishing industry reaches and is linked and involved in one fashion or another, all of which vitally effects the economy of Florida and the economic welfare of its citizens, and

WHEREAS, The fisheries is one of the best recreational attractions we have to offer to our millions of tourists that visit Florida, as well as to our own citizens, and

WHEREAS, The major segment of the commercial fishing industry is the shrimp fishery, which has grown in the last nine years to become the largest single most valuable fishery resource in the United States.

WHEREAS, According to statistics recently released by the United States Department of Interior to the United States Congress, the shrimp industry of the United States has risen spectacularly from a modest beginning to overshadow on an annual scale the tuna industry by thirty million dollars ($30,000,000), the salmon industry by thirty nine million dollars ($39,000,000) and the oyster industry by forty eight million dollars ($48,000,000), all of which means, according to the Department of Interior, that the shrimp industry has increased fourfold during the last nine years, and

WHEREAS, In addition to the value of the shrimp and other parts of the fishing industry in our own territorial waters, hundreds of the citizens of Florida are engaged in fishing on the high seas of the Gulf of Mexico, Caribbean and South Atlantic, and have millions of dollars invested in boats and equipment to do such high seas fishing, and the citizens of Florida produce more shrimp from high seas fisheries on international waters than any other state, and

WHEREAS, The State of Florida annually licenses hundreds of fishing boats, there are licensed over eight hundred (800) large shrimp trawlers, most of which fish such high seas shrimp fisheries as those known as the Campeche, Tampico and Tortugas shrimp beds, and

WHEREAS, The very survival of our shrimp industry that fishes on the high seas is being disastrously affected by some foreign nations asserting or attempting to assert wide and unreasonable extensions of their territorial seas and sovereignty jurisdiction over fisheries on the high seas without relation to genuine conservation or the historic rights of our fisherman, and

WHEREAS, Our shrimp fishermen fishing on what the U. S. recognizes as the high seas of the Gulf of Mexico have been harrassed, intimidated, threatened, arrested, seized, fired upon by naval officers and have suffered great financial loss due to such harrassment and seizure of their boats, equipment, cargo and the imposition of stiff fines and penalties, and

WHEREAS, While such losses, fear and persecution have been inflicted upon our shrimp fishermen in the Gulf of Mexico by the Mexican Navy it has been the continued hope of this legislature that the differences between the two governments would be resolved, and

WHEREAS, This legislature desires that the Florida state board of conservation continue to exercise every means at its disposal to assist and encourage where possible, the department of state and the United States Congress to take recognition of the serious and continuing threat to the very existence of our shrimp industry on the high seas of the Gulf of Mexico which is so vital to the economy of our state and so many of our citizens, and

WHEREAS, It is clearly apparent to this legislature that it is incumbent upon the state to continue to give every assistance to the industry to keep the federal authorities, and especially the department of state, alerted to our critical fishery problems which are being interfered with and threatened by foreign governments, and

WHEREAS, The state shall continue to diligently give every protection possible to the fishery interest of its own citizens, whether they fish in the state's territorial waters or on the high seas, that are supposed to be free to all mankind, as it is apparent that interest will lag at the national level, and attention there will be given to other matters and our shrimp industry on the high seas of the gulf will face ultimate annihilation, and

WHEREAS, It appears imperative that the state board of conservation and its representatives shall continue to work very closely as much as is necessary and practicable with the necessary persons in the department of state, the department of interior, and the United States Congress, and the interstate compact commission, to see that proper action is taken to protect the high seas fisheries fished by the citizens of Florida, and

WHEREAS, Large sums of the State's funds have been expended to help many other valuable Florida industries such as the citrus industry, the livestock industry, when they were faced with emergency and unusual situations and conditions such as now face the shrimp industry and the Florida fishing industry in general, and

WHEREAS, It is the opinion of this Legislature that the fishing industry has long been neglected, compared to the assistance the State has given other industries, and although fishing is one of the oldest industries and has furnished a livelihood to hundreds of thousands of our citizens throughout the long history of our State, and

WHEREAS, It appears that it is necessary and imperative that the Legislature should declare a more comprehensive State policy with respect to our salt water fisheries in order to aid, assist, develop, protect and strengthen the fisheries segment of our State's economy,

NOW THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING:

Section 1. Declaration of Policy

The Legislature hereby declares that the salt water fishery resources make a material contribution to the food supply, health, recreation, financial and well being of the citizens of the State of Florida. The fisheries are a living, renewable form of State wealth, capable of being maintained and greatly increased with proper attention, but equally capable of destruction if neglected. The fisheries have occupied an important place in the economy of our State since its colonial beginnings. They give employment, directly or indirectly, to a substantial and ever increasing number of our citizens. They attract all segments of the citizenry to outdoors, healthful, stimulating recreation in every part of the State. They furnish a large quantity of protein food, so essential and necessary to health of our people. Their by-products have a wide variety of essential uses in the arts, industry and agriculture. They strengthen the defense of the United States through the provision of a trained seafaring citizenry and action-ready fleets of seaworthy vessels, and during the last war many of our own Florida fishing boats joined the fishing fleets of the other U. S. coastal fishing states to lend assistance to our United States Navy in the planning and carrying out of the coastal defense program for the protection of the United States. Properly developed and protected, the fisheries are capable of steadily increasing these valuable contributions to the life, health, happiness and wealth of the citizens of Florida. The Legislature further declares that it is its intent that the conservation laws of Florida shall continue to be administered with due regard to the inherent right of every citizen of Florida to engage in fishing for his own pleasure, enjoyment, and betterment and with the intent of stimulating the development of a stronger, with a more prosperous, efficient and thriving fishery and fish processing industry. It is the intent of the Legislature that the State shall continue to do everything necessary to obtain the use and the most benefit possible to the State from the Interstate Fishery Compact Commissions of which Florida is a member, and from which substantial benefits have been derived. The Legislature of Florida further declares that it is its intent that the State through its respective conservation agencies and State official shall continue to cooperate and assist to the fullest practicable extent with federal agencies in securing protection and assistance for our citizens fishing on the high seas and that special attention shall be directed to the high seas shrimp fishery, which constitutes the largest, single fishery and is of the greatest economic value to our citizens and our State.

Section 2. The State Board of Conservation may request and secure the advice and assistance of any department or agency of the State government to carry out the provisions of this resolution, and any such department or agency which furnishes advice or assistance to the board may expend its own funds, for such purposes, with or without reimbursement from the board as may be agreed upon between the board and the department or agency.

Section 3. The board shall consult periodically with the various governmental agencies and other organizations which have to do with or relate to any phase of fisheries and problems that may arise in connection with the fishing rights and interests of the people of Florida.

Section 4. roduction of this bill, a letter has been sent to each member of the Legislature by the Florida Federation of Labor. In that letter dated May 15th, we are advised that there is no need for this legislation requiring compulsory arbitration of labor disputes in the Racing Industry, because an injunction against picketing or a strike would be promptly granted by the courts, without notice, in order to protect State Revenue.

"In view of this statement by organized labor, and their assurances that strikes will not occur in this industry so as to disrupt State Revenue, there is no need for further consideration of this bill at this session. Should State and County revenues be adversely affected by labor disputes in the future, we can then reconsider this legislation at a subsequent session. I, therefore, request permission to withdraw S. B. 709 from further consideration by the Senate and further request that a copy of this explanation of my reason for withdrawing the bill be included at this point in the Journal."
